

Abacus GetThere

Empowering your corporate customers

Your corporate customers are now empowered to conduct their corporate travel arrangements at their convenience. With this, you are able to simplify workflow and achieve higher efficiency.

Abacus GetThere is a powerful online corporate travel management solution that helps your bottom line stay healthy. This solution streamlines and automates nearly every facet of corporate travel procurement for maximum cost efficiencies. Moreover the entire travel procurement process will be smoother with the seamless integration between your existing travel agency systems, Global Distribution Systems (GDS), and supplier host reservations systems. Your employees will be able to book flights, obtain flight schedules and even make changes to bookings instantly, anytime, anywhere. That's greater convenience for them, higher productivity for you.

Delight your corporate customers

Abacus GetThere is your trump card when it comes to getting more business from your corporate customers. The benefits accruing to your corporate customers will simply delight them:

Cuts travel expenses

By capturing vital information on usage activities, Abacus GetThere provides data for you to negotiate better deals with your suppliers for lower airfares and hotel rates. This in turn allows your corporate travellers to reduce their travel expenses and enjoy cost savings.

Enhances global travel policy

Abacus GetThere ensures all travel bookings comply with your corporate travel policies. Automatic low fares can also be displayed during Flight Availability Search.

Optimises your relationship with travel suppliers

The online management of supplier contracts allows for better negotiating positions, which subsequently bring about optimised relations with your travel suppliers. If necessary, displays of preferred suppliers can be managed to control travel spend.

Increases the satisfaction of corporate travellers

Bookings can be accessed anytime, anywhere with this easy and user-friendly system. This convenience provides satisfaction to your corporate travellers, as they enjoy higher efficiency and reduce the hassle of complicated travel arrangements. Online tutorials and help are available which can be used to assist travellers and travel arrangers.

Helps you analyse your travel expenditure

With real time reports generated from the system, you can easily view, forecast and analyse travel data. This gives you the leverage needed to negotiate with travel suppliers.

Exceed your corporate customers' expectations

Abacus GetThere is not only easy to use; the benefits of using it will simply exceed customers' expectations:

Easy to use traveller interface

Abacus GetThere interface allows employees to book flights, car rentals and hotel accommodations directly. This not only empowers them, but saves time and money as well.

Enforce travel policy compliance

Your corporate customers can be assured that their corporate travellers comply with the company's travel policies. Abacus GetThere has a Travel Policy feature that can enforce restrictions on for example the class of service and preferred airlines.

Performance tracking ability

It offers your corporate customers' real time data on supplier and traveller travel usage activities statistics, hence putting your corporate customers on a more advantageous footing with your suppliers.

Ability to hold trips

Travellers and travel arrangers can complete and hold a reservation without purchasing until they are able to confirm their travel plans. This feature provides flexibility to travellers and travel arrangers to confirm their travel plans at their own convenience.

Seamless integration with company process

Companies can simplify expense reporting or human resource (HR) process by integrating Abacus GetThere with internal expense reporting or applicant tracking/ERP systems, thus eliminating dual data entry.

Manage own travel itinerary

Travellers and travel arrangers can acquire reservations booked offline at their travel agency for review, modification or cancellation with just Record Locator Number. This feature provides the convenience to travellers and travel arrangers to make changes to their travel plans.

Increase ROI with online bookings

Based on Abacus GetThere and industry standard benchmarks for online adoption, savings and costs, most companies are able to realise savings in their first year booking online and dramatic savings over several years. The chart below compares the costs to the savings over a three-year period, showing a healthy ROI and increased savings for your business.

"In Singapore's competitive corporate market, Abacus GetThere is an essential part of Safe2Travel's ongoing success, meeting customers needs for an online booking tool. Our corporate travel clients are delighted with the speed and accuracy of our travel arrangements as well as the transparent travel reporting enabled by Abacus GetThere."
