Increase revenue opportunities

Using the Internet, it is now easier to get new customers globally. And with 24/7 availability for online bookings, customers can book directly with you at their convenience.

Lower operational costs

Customers can now shop for their travel needs independently. This frees your travel agents from having to respond to enquiries, and lets them concentrate on closing sales. It also increases efficiency by automating mundane tasks.

Build strong online presence

Abacus WebConnect allows you to create an online booking website with your branded look and feel. You can customise workflow and business logic according to your business requirements, and incorporate functionalities at your own pace and direction. It also helps you reduce development costs and market your products faster.

Integrate with your existing workflow

Your business can now integrate with any in-house or external membership database systems as well as any additional cost-effective Abacus solutions. You can conceptualize application functions into tasks, which lead to task oriented development and workflows, hence a closer interaction between business requirements and technical functionality.

Minimal programming effort

Abacus WebConnect eliminates the need for screen-scraping or translation of complex Abacus system commands. It is based on industry generic technology standards that enable different systems to 'talk' to each other using a single interface, written in any language. You can still ensure that you and your travellers have all the functionalities you need to sell travel – air, car, hotel, Passenger Name Record (PNR) and more.

Ease of implementation

There is no hardware or middleware involved, and your existing applications can be adapted without being changed completely. Also, Abacus WebConnect provides service interfaces for legacy applications and extends the lifespan of existing software without the need for redevelopment.
